FREE TRAINING IN YOUR COMMUNITY!

Schedule a Training Conference for Your Area Today

By some estimates there are as many as 45,000 Idaho first responders that need the specialized training of the Institute of Emergency Management. In order for us to reach as many of these first responders as possible, we are prepared to bring the training to your community. Please contact Dave Fotsch, the Institute's new Conference Coordinator, to explore the possibility of scheduling a training conference in your area. Dave is eager to work with you to bring this vital training to first responders in every corner of the state. Please contact him today at the Institute at 208.685.6797 x 5, or by email fotsdavi@isu.edu.
