

Financial Assistance

The Department of Theatre and Dance offers monetary awards, scholarships and graduate assistantships each academic year. Scholarship auditions/ portfolio reviews are held annually in early March. After that time, some scholarships may be awarded on an availability basis.

Other financial aid options, including general scholarships, grants, and loans, are available through the Idaho State University Financial Aid Office.

Most Departmental scholarships require that students maintain a cumulative 3.0 grade point average. However, some service scholarships may be available for students who are active in departmental productions (backstage or onstage). Students receiving theatre scholarships are expected to participate meaningfully in each mainstage production. Students receiving dance scholarships are expected to: Josephine, please complete.
