*Classes will be held and offices will be open on the State of Idaho holidays of Columbus Day/Indigenous Peoples Day, October 12, 2020 and Veterans Day, November 11, 2020. Substitute days are designated as Compensatory Days when the University will be closed. Classified staff will receive three substitute days for working the two state holidays of Columbus Day/Indigenous Peoples Day and Veterans Day in accordance with state regulations. Non-classified staff and 12-month faculty will receive two substitute days for working the two state holidays and then have the option of working or using vacation for the remaining third compensatory day. Employees should make arrangements with their supervisors, and timesheets should clearly indicate whether employees worked or used vacation during any closure days. Holidays for 9, 10, and 11-month faculty will continue to correspond with the academic calendar. Employees are encouraged to contact the Office of Human Resources with any questions.

ISU Offices will not be open for business the week of Christmas and has designated three days as ISU Holidays. Employees may choose to use vacation on these three ISU Holiday Days, take the days as leave without pay, or they may make arrangements with their supervisors to work on the respective days. Employees should make those respective arrangements with their supervisors, and time sheets should clearly stipulate whether employees worked, used vacation, or took leave without pay during the holiday closure. Holidays for faculty will continue to correspond with the academic calendar.

Please note: Classes will not be held during the week of Thanksgiving in accordance with the academic calendar; however, offices will be open for business, Monday through Wednesday of Thanksgiving week.
