Notes on Estimated Value and the Opening Bid Amount:

Keep in mind that a silent auction is seen as an opportunity for someone to get something at a bargain. Opening Bids will be set at about 40 percent of the fair market value of an item. Most auction items will go for less than the market value of an item. Artificially elevating the value of your artwork does not necessarily mean we will be able to sell it for more. HOWEVER, in setting your price you should consider how much it would need to sell for to make it worth your donation. A rule of thumb is to ask “Would I be okay if the piece sold for 70 percent of the estimated value I provided?”
