

Good Afternoon,

COVID financing programs have ended. For Economic Injury Disaster Loan borrowers, here's your next steps:

For over 2 years, the COVID-19 Economic Injury Disaster Loan program provided funding to help small businesses recover from the economic impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic. In that time, over 3.9 million loans totaling over $378 billion were approved across the country.

The program effectively ended the first week of May 2022. As of May 6, the SBA was no longer processing COVID-19 EIDL loan increase requests or requests for reconsideration of previously declined loan applications due to a lack of available funding.

As of May 16, the COVID-19 EIDL portal closed. Borrowers who need copies of their loan documents can still contact Customer Service at (833) 853-5638. Please allow 3-5 business days to receive your materials.

So, What Comes Next?

The EIDL program is a loan program with a 30-year maturity term and an interest rate assigned at loan closing. These loans are not forgivable and must be repaid.

Payments were automatically deferred for 30 months from the date of the Note. SBA began approving COVID EIDL applications in Spring 2020. This means we are rapidly approaching the end of the deferment period for those early loans.

Business owners should start preparing to make payments. Here are some important items to note:

- Interest continued to accrue on the loans during the deferment.
- Partial or full payments were being accepted during the deferment but were not required.
- Deferments may result in balloon payments.
- SBA will not be sending monthly SBA Form 1201 payment notices but may send regular payment reminders.

Setting Up Payments

Monthly payments of principal and interest will begin at the end of the deferment period and will be paid over the remaining 27+ years. For borrowers that received loan increases, the deferment period begins on the date of the disbursement of the original loan. You may make prepayments at any time without penalty.

The Note can be found in the original loan closing documents. The date of the Note is located at the top right corner of the front page of the Promissory Note:

	U.S. Small Business Administration	Date: ISSUED NOTY DATE
	NOTE	Loan Amount: XXX,XXX.00
	(SECURED DISASTER LOANS)	Annual Interest Rate: XXX%

Servicing Your EIDL Loan

Borrowers should review their loan authorization to ensure all terms are being followed. For loans above $25,000, SBA filed a lien on the business assets. If a business owner wants to sell a piece of equipment or the business itself, SBA will need to approve the release of its lien. In some cases, this may require a cash payment to reduce the loan balance. These requests are approved by one of SBA's disaster loan centers and borrowers should be prepared to make their request well in advance of the actual sale.

EIDL borrowers in Idaho should contact SBA's servicing center in El Paso (800) 487-6019 at EIPasoDLSC@sba.gov. Hours: 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. MT, Monday through Friday
