

Dr. Courtney Lamb

Math Specialist

Dr. Courtney Lamb is an educator with a passion for mathematics education, having over 18 years of dedicated classroom experience. Her enduring commitment to cultivating best practices when teaching mathematics has brought her to the University of Idaho to join the Regional Math Center team.

Courtney is a Pocatello native and graduated from Pocatello High School. She attended Gonzaga University for her undergraduate studies and received her Master's degree from National University. Courtney has taught elementary and middle school in a variety of roles for 18 years and completed her Doctor of Education in 2023 from the University of Northern Colorado. Courtney moved back to Pocatello in 2022 and is happy to be back in the Portneuf Valley sharing her hometown with her husband and children.

With a comprehensive understanding of pedagogical theories, research, and best practices in math education, Courtney possesses a unique skill set that enables her to foster meaningful learning experiences. It is her desire to work with teachers across Idaho to elevate the quality of math education and instill a love for the subject in both educators and students alike.

 Office: College of Education 105F

 TBD

 TBD

ROAR