American Indian Services PREP STEM Program students spent half a day on campus last week, paying a visit to Chemistry, Geosciences, and Biological Sciences. Here, they're doing silver mirror and chromatography experiments with Professors Josh Pak and Rene Rodriguez, as well as chemistry students.

Congrats, Dan LaBrier, assistant professor of nuclear engineering!

Recently, LaBrier was awarded an Idaho NASA EPSCoR Summer Faculty Fellowship, which supports Idaho-based university faculty in their efforts to better align their research programs with topical areas and missions that NASA leads. LaBrier studies how extreme environments - like those in space - can affect the performance of materials used to build nuclear reactors and their supporting facilities.

Help Us Share Your Accomplishments!

Our College’s outstanding faculty, staff, and students achieve many notable research and professional accomplishments. In addition, our departments regularly have newsworthy advancements. We want to make sure those stories are shared publicly. Here are a few ways you can provide a news tip to help get the word out:

Use this Story Submission Form to send your news tip to the Office of Marketing and Communications.

Send an email to Logan McDougall (loganmcdougall@isu.edu) with a brief description of the news to be shared.

You are always welcome to create a draft story, submit it via the Story Submission Form, or send it to Logan. The Office of Marketing and Communications and Logan will coordinate to get the story finalized and distributed to the media outlets/platforms that best tell the story.
