Distinguished Faculty Nominations Sought

Nominations are being sought for three of the annual awards for Idaho State University faculty members. Those recognized will be honored during a reception in April and during the 2022 Commencement exercises.

Nominations for the Distinguished Teacher, Service, and Researcher are due by 5 p.m. on Friday, January 28, 2022. Additional information and nomination forms are available at isu.edu/academicaffairs/faculty-support/isu-faculty-awards/.

Congrats Dr. Todd Morris!

Dr. Morris was named one of Idaho State University Libraries' 2021 Textbook Heroes. Textbook Heroes are members of the ISU community who have promoted or adopted low-cost or free course materials, including open educational resources (OER). Open educational resources are free or low-cost learning materials that are used and shared under an open license. Dr. Morris uses OER textbooks in his Introduction to Chemistry and General Chemistry courses.

Find out more about all five of the 2021 Textbook Heroes at isu.libguides.com/OER/TextbookHeroes.

Help Us Share Your Accomplishments!

The outstanding faculty, staff, and students in our college achieve many notable research and professional accomplishments. In addition, our departments regularly have newsworthy advancements. We want to make sure those stories are shared publicly. Here are a few ways you can provide a news tip to help get the word out.

1. Use this Story Submission Form to send your news tip to the Office of Marketing and Communications.
 2. Send an email to Logan McDougall (loganmcdougall@isu.edu) with a brief description of the news to be shared.
 3. You are always welcome to create a draft story and submit it via the Story Submission Form or sent it to Logan. The Office of Marketing and Communications and Logan will coordinate to get the story finalized and distributed to the media outlets/platforms that will best tell the story.
