cheese	more cheese	cowbells
Being grouped in a cohort.	Interactions with faculty members.	My Doc supervisors!
Academic work	Working with other students	Mentorship from faculty support of faculty	Learning experiences	Changes to COMPS
Opportunities to work with faculty	academic challenge	Personal growth & development
Faculty support	Individualized focus	research and teaching opportunities
Triadic Supervision	program curriculum	Leadership engagement
Relationships made within the cohort	First semester as a grad student	small cohort
new friendships	Supportive interactions with doctoral students	Peer support theories class	theories class	Academic Supervision
Cohort model incredibly helpful and supportive	pre-practicum practice	Availability of faculty
Support from the doctoral students	Faculty and doc student supervision is set up for a 'no-fail' situation based on the willingness to work, struggle and grow of the masters students	group
Supervision experience: I learned a lot	the outside of class activities facilitated by CSI- help build morale between students and faculty	Group class
Interaction with Faculty	Lab experiences	Interactions with those in the program with me.
resourceful professors	Interaction with Community Members	unify cohorts
Increase in strengths based feedback across the board	supportive advisors	Overall, having more confidence in myself.
CSI Events	Increase in sense of connectedness to doctoral supervisor	Interaction with Doc Students
Supervision with Dr. Kleist	Friendliness of Staff	Ability to shape the program requirement to a line with my scholarly interests
Professional relationship with committee chair and department chair	Mastering the math required in my assessment class. :)	Having supportive faculty and colleagues with publications
My most positive experience as a student at ISU has been the empathy and support shown to me by my professors in times of personal/family related crises.	Supportive and challenging opportunities	classes studied

Working with David Kleist	My second most positive experience as a student has been forming relationships with my cohort and future colleagues.	Judith and Liz have been helpful with logistics and oversight.
doc students	Working with faculty and colleagues in research	Scholarship opportunities Faculty	professors	theories small group	Assistantship opportunities	Thailand Study Abroad
self-development	pre practicum	education
Orals	Faculty Supervision	Helpfulness of the doc students who seemed invested in my personal success

sausage Better attitudes among cohort members.	more sausage Faculty members not being so busy, having an easier time scheduling.	more cowbell
Improved equipment to use for counselor training Larger space for the doctoral student offices	Greater amount of space for clinic and classrooms larger work space in doctoral student office	wireless phone service in doctoral student office more opportunities for research	access to state of art technology	more community involvement
Increased cohesion among faculty day class schedule	Funding for research/conferences	Mentoring
Less confusion	More organization	Smoother transitions between faculty positions.
Better AV Equipment for Lab quicker feedback on work	Local and Less Expensive Alternatives for NCE I just want to know how I am doing
Having a 2nd year mentoring program would have been helpful. Although it was suggested, it was not necessarily encouraged or enforced. I think that this would become an invaluable experience for all involved.	Although I felt support by faculty, I also disconnected. Some of the classes we saw the Ph. D students and never saw faculty. I understand that it is part of the doc students curriculum to teach, yet there were times when faculty was asked about class and was unable to answer questions due to infrequency in class or knowledge about when/where curriculum taught, etc.
Better leadership and guidance-professors seem distracted and not accessible	training of treatment plans & interventions	Department speaks of the importance of self-care, however seems to expect students to sacrifice their families and children for this program.
Meaningful outreach to community More solid answers to questions.	Keeping supervision appointments consistent	Collaboration with other university depts.
lower tuition	more theory basic technique classes
More concise and clear communication about expectations	Knowing our (Meridian's) graduation date	A more direct approach to teaching statistics to counselors...

Having more instruction on writing SOAP Notes.
Increase funding opportunities for scholarship work such as helping with expenses to national and/or regional conferences.	Increase support for publication and grant writing	Learning environment (facility) to be comfortable (rooms sometimes are considerably cold or hot to where it makes it difficult to engage in learning)
Flexibility/adaptability/more variety and also more engagement with classes by professors. This may also improve with more committed faculty.
Offer a child/play therapy class more feedback about grades		more time 1 on 1 with faculty
More practice and application in Courses for Interventions	Instruction on Treatment Development	Case Studies
nothing	nothing	nothing
Feedback on papers	Supervision papers graded and handed back in a timely manner	better tracking of paperwork. For the record- this is SO much better last year. Dr. Moody has made leaps and bounds better than the year before.	More direct help with paperwork for licensure and other certifications such as pupil personnel
Have classes from multiple teachers		have faculty that care about students and demonstrate it
Pre-practicum (more positive environment)	More advising/help on class schedule	Easier methods of finding Practicum/Internship sites
Each faculty giving the same answers to the same questions. It's so frustrating that everyone is singing a different tune.	I'm Mental Health track and there are 3 classes that are exactly the same, that was tough. It was the Foundations in CMHC, Issues in CMHC, and Continuum of Care in CMHC. I understand that these are CACREP requirements, but the material was almost identical in all three courses so it seemed like a waste of time.	Zero talk from faculty about the CPCE, NCE, or how to get licensed. I've felt lost through the entire process.
More NCE prep	More CPCE prep
