

POL 6606 Politics Environmental Law and Regulation	Goal/Objective-Knowledge Of	Outcomes Reflecting Goal	Assignments Demonstrating Achieving Outcome
	The affect(s) of: Legislative, Executive, Judicial & Administrative Development on Environmental Law and Regulation	Critical understanding & analysis: Capacity to articulate & apply contending legal theories and political perspectives to developed environmental laws & regulations	Written Essay Examination: Students are required to critically assess in argumentative form, & supported by academically recognized source materials, the distinguishing characteristics of modern approaches to environmental protection in the context of common law's traditional dicta on such matters.
	The affect(s) of: Environmental Legislation and the Promulgation on Constitutional Rights & Liberties (Individually/Collectively)	Critical understanding & analysis: Capacity to articulate & apply interpretive reasoning to the implementation of multiple & varied laws & regulations designed to confront issues of environmental concern.	Written Essay Examination: Students are required to critically assess in argumentative form, & supported by academically recognized source materials, the manner in which the American Procedural Due Process Model of Public Administration is applied to develop & implement a regulatory paradigm that addresses legislative directives intended to protect the environment from harm
	The affect(s) of: Judicial Case Law & Administrative Interpretation on Environmental Law & Regulation	Critical understanding & analysis: Capacity to articulate & apply interpretive reasoning to the judicial and administrative interpretation of laws & regulations designed to mitigate issues of environmental concern.	Written Essay Examination: Students are required to critically assess in argumentative form, & supported by academically recognized source materials, contending legal and administrative interpretations of environmental laws & regulations as a means of offering a solution to a complex & dynamic environmental problem
	Graduate Student Component	Critical Analysis of Political & Administrative Responsiveness to Democratic Demands for Policy Solutions to Environmental Problems	Written Research Paper: Graduate Students are required to utilize government documents & case law in order to assess the legislative record/history of an environmentally-oriented rule/regulation's political, legal, and administrative promulgation as a means of 1) critically assessing the affect (positive or negative) of the rule/regulation as the rule/regulation was intended & 2) clearly articulate prescriptive argument for enhancement/reform of the environmental rule/regulation/program/policy