

The Byrd's View to Keep You Informed

Hello Staff Member,

Well, it's here and have you seen all the smiling faces on campus? I can't tell you how many graduating seniors I have encountered on the Pocatello campus and the joy and laughter shared with me about their journey getting to the celebration day coming this Saturday on the Pocatello campus. I hope each of you can go to a graduation ceremony on your campus this week or next week and see for yourselves the accomplishments of your students, the hard work they put in, the long study nights over the years to pass their classes, and the excitement about beginning a new chapter in their lives. REMEMBER, you provided a supportive hand, a comforting comment, or assisted or guided them in the direction they needed to go, so you are truly a part of the celebrations that are going on for the next few days on our campuses. My advice to you, soak it all in and enjoy every 'THANK YOU' tossed your way because you earned it.
